Getting to know the ISA- South region - state by state

This issue contains the first ever overview of the ISA-South region, indicating where IS are taught and at what level. All links are live and you can Ctrl and right click to access the site (if the link does not work, it means that the link does not work on the Internet. If your program is not listed correctly than it may not be correctly listed on Internet). Beyond this newsletter we will be able to publish updates, information about important developments from individual universities/ programs, appointments, vacancies, achievements of faculty and students. Please let us know of any mistakes/ addenda for which we apologize.
